1.1 Preface:

One of the main objectives of higher education is to provide quality education to students and make them responsible citizens for the development of our society. This type of objective will be achieved if the institutions with similar aims and objectives come closer to share information and resources with each other for better growth and transformation. Collaborative activities will definitely help to identify the shortcomings, drawbacks and remedial measures. Thus, both the colleges intend to collaborate with each other for the improvement of the students, community and society.

Lakhimpur Girls' College was established in 1972 and it is situated at the urban location of North Lakhimpur town. P.O.- Khelmati in the District of Lakhimpur (Assam), Pin- 787055. It is one of the most distinguished premier institutions of Higher Education in the district. Since inception the college has been imparting higher education and providing knowledge and skill among the girl students. The science stream of the institution was introduced in the session 1990-91 and subsequently it was brought under the deficit system in March, 1998. The college was awarded with 'A' grade in the year 2014. At present this institution of repute boasts of commendable physical as well as intellectual infrastructure. It continues to pursue its innate drive for women empowerment by imparting quality teaching as well as a host of other extension activities especially in the domains concerning women interest and growth. In keeping with the latest requisites of innovation and learning the institution has always updated itself with the evolving passage of time.
