In the midst of the Covid-19 pandemic, the education sector faced many obstacles like all others. The institutions were shut down but for the greater interest of the student community the stakeholders of the education sector welcomed new initiatives to tackle the adverse situation. Everyone has to adopt new methods and techniques to reach out each other. "Online mode" was the need of the hour. In this regard Internal Quality Assurance Cell and Department of History, Lakhimpur Girls' College organised a One Day Webinar on "Effective Online Teaching" on 1st July, 2020 at 3:00PM. Principal of the college, Dr. Surajit Bhuyan welcomed Prof. John Jose, Resource Person of the webinar and the participants. Prof. John Jose delivered an effective lecture through his slides before almost 500 teacher participants and students from different states. In his deliberation Prof. Jose emphasised on the use of online resources with a note that there must be a connection between the teacher and the students through the technology as it was the call of the day in this situation. He pointed out that for online teaching the gadgets should be available for both the teachers and students and everyone keeps in mind that lessons of the life are more important than lessons from a book.

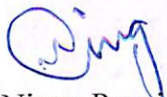

Dr. Bhupen Chutia, IQAC Coordinator delivered the vote of thanks.

The Webinar has received lots of feedback from the participants.

E-Certificates were issued to all those who have submitted their feedback form during the stipulated time.

Organisers of the webinar will always remain grateful to the resource person and all the participants for making the webinar a success.

Thank you
