

Report of the National Webinar

Theme: Self- Learning, Innovation, Music and Independence- turning your hobby/passion into a career

A National Webinar was organized by IQAC, Lakhimpur Girls' College today on 14th July, 2020 in a zoom platform. The theme of the webinar was Self- Learning, Innovation, Music and Independence- turning your hobby/passion into a career. Prominent Music Composer-Director, Sound Engineer of Assam, Jatin Sharma and Rupjyoti Devi, famous playback singer were the invited speakers of the webinar. Mr Jayantajit Bordoloi, Assistant Professor, Department of History, Lakhimpur Girls' College was the coordinator of this webinar. In his speech, Jatin Sharma highlighted how a person can pursue a career related to his hobby or passion. He argued, it often seems that in today's world many people are unable to find job satisfaction as the job doesn't relate to their hobbies or passions. So, it is very important to pursue a career according to his hobbies or passions. He emphasised how his passion of music turned into a career in Mumbai. The session became lively with the songs sung by Rupjyoti Devi. In this programme Dr. Surajit Bhuyan, honourable principal, Lakhimpur Girls' College, respected teachers of Lakhimpur Girls' College, many faculties and students of different colleges of Assam, personalities from cultural and other fields were present and grace the programme with their ideas. There was total approximately 200-230 participants from all over India.

Programme Coordinator